

15 Honeymoon Ideas Where You Can Hop From City to Beach

Pair these destinations together for the ultimate honeymoon.

Can't decide whether to take an urban honeymoon or spend your post-wedding week relaxing on the beach? Who said you have to choose? Spending time in one destination before hopping to another for your honeymoon is a great way to break up long flights, and it can also help you and your spouse craft the perfect first getaway as a married couple. Pair these destinations together for the ultimate honeymoon.

Buenos Aires + Jose Ignacio

WHERE: Buenos Aires, Argentina; Jose Ignacio, Uruguay

It's only a 45-minute flight from the vibrant and seductive city of Buenos Aires to the bohemian-chic seaside town of José Ignacio, but the two destinations feel worlds apart. Start with a stay at the Palacio Duhau Park Hyatt Buenos Aires, in the city's romantic Recoleta neighborhood, for steamy nights of tango dancing and wine tastings, and end the honeymoon with a private casa at Playa Vik José Ignacio where days are spent lounging in the soft, pale sands along the coastline and evenings are spent on the beach around a parrilla (traditional Uruguayan grill) with a cozy blanket and a glass of wine.